Dear Prof. Lee,

Are you submitting the paper for review? If so, could you indicate which journal you are submitting to?

Thanks.

Dear Customer

Thank you for your email.

To link to the article and the abstract of the article you need to set up a link as follows:

journals.cambridge.org/article\_

journals.cambridge.org/abstract\_

You need to enter the DOI number which can be found on the abstract of the article under the word Copyright. please only use the section after the forward slash beginning with an 'S'.

We do use Open URL but only on the articles which are created in full text html, and currently only the following journals articles are created this way: Experimental Physiology, American Political Science Review, PS:Political Science & Politics and Parasitology.

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact us again.

Dear Professor Lee,

Under the name of the editorial committee, we regret to inform you that we are unable to accept your papers entitled:

A short and plain proof of Fermat's Last Theorem
4 color and FLT proof

by J.Y.Lee; Y.J.Lee submitted to the Journal of the Mathematical Society of Japan.

Following the referee's opinion, we recommend you that you submit the manuscript to some other journals.

Sincerely yours,

Lee Yul,

Your proof looks very impressive. You did a fine job on it.

Have you published it in some mathematical journal? Could you tell me which one? If you have not published it, why not? Are you planning to in there near future?

Why did you send your proof to me? What can I do for you?

I am on the editorial board for JCNT, but there is a proper way to submit papers there, and it is not through me. I received a second message from you submitting your paper to Integers, the electronic journal of combinatorial number theory. I am one of the editors-in-chief there and I have sent your paper to the managing editor, with the message that you had previously (5 minutes prror) submitted the paper to another journal. It is not the practice in mathematics to submit to more than one journal at a time, since refereeing is done on a volunteer basis.

Dear Sir,

Thank you for your interest in publishing with one of our journals.

Unfortunately we do not handle manuscript submission; you will have to resubmit your work directly to the editorial board of your chosen journal.

In order to do this, please follow these instructions:

Go to our online platform for journals at <http://journals.cambridge.org>

From here you can browse all of our journals by title, subject etc.

Choose a journal you believe is suitable and click on the title to be taken to the journal's homepage.

Once here, click on the 'Instructions for Contributors' tab on the right hand side of the screen.

Click on the pdf option to bring up a document detailing what you need to do and where you need to send submissions for that particular journal. (You will need Adobe Acrobat Reader or better to view this document – in case you do not have this programme we have supplied a link where you can download it for free).

Please note that all journals have different submission addresses and preferences as to the format of the submission, please read the document thoroughly to ensure your manuscript will be considered.

Good luck with your submission and thank you for choosing journals published by Cambridge University Press.

Yours Sincerely ,

Karen Martin

Dear Author,

We have just received your new manuscript submission to
JOURNAL OF NUMBER THEORY.

However, as of 2006, the journal has moved to a new web-based manuscript submission and tracking system. We respectfully request that you please log on and re-submit your paper via the following web site: <http://ees.elsevier.com/jnt/>

In addition to ensuring the timely processing of your manuscript, the new system will allow you instant access to the current status of your paper as it moves through review.

Full instructions for using the system are available on the web site, but if you have any questions during the submission process please do not hesitate to contact us for assistance.

Sincerely, The Journal of Number Theory.
